HONORING THOSE WHO SERVED

Welcome to our third annual commemorative publication honoring the veterans of Guthrie County.

What began as an effort to recognize the men and women who served our country has grown into a meaningful collection of local names and photographs we can share with our communities and preserve for future generations.

SCAN HERE FOR DIGITAL ISSUE

Last year, we collected and published 320 veteran photographs in a special section distributed in the November print editions of the Panora Times, Guthrie Center Times and Lake Panorama Times. The collection also remains available online at gctimesnews.com/veterans and was delivered by email as a special Times Vedette edition on Veterans Day.

Shane Goodman

This year, we are proud to add another 60 photographs, bringing our collection to 380 veterans. Each photograph represents an individual who answered the call to serve.

Our work is far from finished. Many veterans have yet to be included, and we will continue collecting photographs and information for future editions. Our online collection will remain available year-round and will grow as new submissions arrive. If you are a veteran or know someone who served, we encourage you to share photographs and information so we can include them in this ongoing tribute.

I extend my sincere thanks to everyone who contributed photographs and information, especially Cheryl Castile for leading this important effort. I also appreciate the local businesses that supported this special section through advertising and helped us recognize our veterans.

Above all, we offer our deepest gratitude to the veterans of Guthrie County and beyond. Your service, sacrifice and commitment have helped preserve the freedoms we enjoy every day. Those freedoms should never be taken for granted, and neither should the people who defended them. ■
